Gavin Taylor
Chief Executive Officer
West Australian Football Commission

Welcome to the first West Australian Football League Grand Final at WA's new home of football, Optus Stadium.

After a magnificent farewell to Subiaco Oval last season, we turn our attention to celebrating the start of a new era at Optus Stadium by showcasing the biggest day on the WAFL calendar.

Not only will fans get to see an exciting day of grand finals featuring some of the most talented players in WA, they will also have the chance to experience a unique event at Optus Stadium and be among the first to have a kick on the ground after the game during the True Sport Community Kick-to-Kick.

With the support of the State Government, Optus Stadium and the WAFL clubs we have been able to organize the first ever True Sport Community Kick-to-Kick on the ground. It will be a fantastic way to finish the day and the 2018 WAFL season.

For the competing clubs, today is also an opportunity for them to experience everything that Optus Stadium has to offer and showcase their skills in front of a big crowd. Congratulations to all the teams competing across the Colts, Reserves and League grand finals.

Reaching the premiership match is a great reward for the hard work and commitment of all the players, coaches, support staff and volunteers at each WAFL club. Your efforts are certainly recognised and I wish you all the best of luck.

Congratulations also to each of the umpires selected to officiate in grand finals today. This is also a reflection of your commitment and the high standards you have delivered over the course of the year and today's games wouldn't be possible without you.

Special thanks to WAFL naming rights partners McDonald's, the Seven Network and broadcast sponsors Kia, Optus and TABtouch, as well as all of our other media partners, for their continued support.

The additional support of Simply Energy for our WAFL Colts competition is also greatly appreciated and means today's Simply Energy WAFL Colts Grand Final will, for the first time, be televised live on Channel 7.

In another coup for the first WAFL Grand Final at the new stadium, major WAFL sponsor Optus has helped bring Triple J Hottest 100-winning band, The Rubens, to Perth to headline the Optus Pre-Game Show as part of the telco's partnership with Universal Music.

I hope that everyone enjoys the performance, as well as the great range of family activities and attractions on offer in the stadium precinct as part of our festival of football.

I would also like acknowledge the hard work of the WAFL clubs and their staff, board members and other volunteers, as well as WAFC staff and commissioners, who have all dedicated their time to make the 2018 season and WA Football such an overall success.

I hope everyone enjoys today's event and best of luck to the competing teams.

HUNGER drives WA

One club has had a rich and successful recent past. The other has endured an unprecedented year of turmoil yet emerged with an immediate future.

So, while a few matches separate the form of this season's WAFL grand finalists, Subiaco and West Perth are approaching the 2018 decider from vastly different angles.

However, it was two moments of soul-searching that inspired the Lions and Falcons to this moment. After all, succeeding on Grand Final day is all about resilience and prosperity.

There is no doubt the financially-strong Subiaco has been the WAFL trendsetter for most of the decade. Sure, the Lions ran into a Peel team boosted by AFL-listed talent in the past two grand finals, both times succumbing to the Thunder, but they were still a potent force in each season.

Instead of throwing up his arms in frustration at the AFL alignment, coach Jarrad Schofield decided if you can't beat them, get better so you can.

And he turned Subiaco into the most powerful home-and-away unit the competition has seen for more than 70 years.

West Perth also had a moment whereby the coach decided to rise against adversity.

For two months the Falcons were in danger of financial collapse. Players didn't know whether there would be a next year. Yet they dismissed the off-field ogre haunting Joondalup Arena to decide if they were going out as a team, they would do so with a bang.

TO SUCCEED
FL grand finalists

By Ross Lewis

Hunger has driven each combatant and it augurs well for a highly-spirited first ever WAFL Grand Final at Optus Stadium.

Schofield knew at the start of the year his team would only have to make a small improvement to be able to beat anyone this year. And, so far, he has been correct.

"In retrospect, last year we learned a lot in the space of two weeks – from the Second Semi-Final to the Grand Final – and we walked away licking our wounds but we felt it was an opportunity we lost," Schofield said.

"But what it did was show our guys how good they can be regardless of who they are playing and how they can adapt within the space of two weeks and play the games on our terms."

The Lions certainly did this campaign winning all 18 home-and-away matches and the Second Semi-Final. A win in the premiership match will make Subiaco only the third team since the introduction of the Page finals system in 1931 to go through a season undefeated. East Perth (1944) and East Fremantle (1946) achieved the feat.

Captain Kyal Horsley, at 31, played his best full season of football to lead the Subiaco charge. Experienced campaigners Chris Phelan, Josh Deluca, Lachlan Delahunty, Leigh Kitchin and Zac Clarke complemented their skipper to make the Lions more formidable.

West Perth coach Bill Monaghan had tried to keep his players away from the boardroom drama engulfing the club.

"It is great news the West Perth Football Club is going to continue," Monaghan said during the finals series. "We have been able to push that to side the whole year. We didn't use it as a positive or negative."

However, club sources said that once the financial impasse that threatened the Falcons was eradicated there was a renewed spirit in the League playing group and that showed with brilliant wins over Claremont (First Semi-Final) and South Fremantle (Preliminary Final).

Monaghan relied on a core group of players, including skipper Aaron Black, Shane Nelson, Chris Keunen, Jay van Berlo and Andrew Strijk to maintain the intensity throughout the year.

This match highlights Subiaco's success over 15 years. Over that time the Lions have made 11 grand finals.

Lions, Falcons ready for another key battle

They have been teammates in this biggest WAFL day of the year. And they have also been opposition coaches.

Tonight, one will be celebrating, the other contemplating what might have been.

Jarrad Schofield and Bill Monaghan were part of the Subiaco team that lost the 1995 WAFL Grand Final, ironically to West Perth.

Twenty years later they were in different coaches' boxes as Schofield guided the Lions past Monaghan's Falcons to claim the pennant.

Such is the turnover of WAFL talent in quick time that Subiaco is likely to call on only eight players from the 2015 premiership contest – Kyal Horsley, Leigh Kitchin, Chris Phelan, Lachlan Delahunty, Clancy Wheeler, Jordan Lockyer, Hayden Kennedy and Aaron Heal.

For West Perth, Aaron Black, Andrew Strijk, Michael Lourey, Trent Manzone, Shane Nelson, Jay van Berlo, Chris Keunen, Kris Shannon and Tyler Keitel will be looking to go one step better in 2018.

Interestingly Drew Rohde played for West Perth that day. Today he lines up for Subiaco.

Subiaco v West Perth Grand Finals
1935: West Perth 11.8 (74) d Subiaco 7.9 (51)
1973: Subiaco 10.12 (72) d West Perth 6.4 (40)
1995: West Perth 21.11 (137) d Subiaco 12.9 (81)
2003: West Perth 13.9 (87) d Subiaco 9.10 (64)

COLLECTABLES

During 2018, the Football Budget will again feature a section on WAFL memorabilia and invites you to write or email if you want more information about the football collectables you have tucked away at home.

Well, we've come to the end of the 2018 WAFL season – the 134th year of football in WA.

And what a great year it was for our State team, breaking the drought in Adelaide with victory over South Australia to extend our unbeaten run against all other States to six years.

A couple of weeks ago, I promised to show WAFL Collectables readers a selection of old State jumpers, and I have since had a request from Budget reader Ernie, who wanted a bit of a history of the State jumper for an upcoming speech he has to deliver.

So, what better time to do that than in the grand final edition?

Perhaps the best State jumper I have seen belonged to WA football legend William "Nipper" Truscott, who wore it at the 1921 national carnival in Perth.

The WA State jumper was predominantly green from 1908 until 1934 and Nipper's jumper, complete with hat, would be one of the few green WA jumpers that still survives.

In fact, I think I have only seen two others, one of them being the 1924 carnival jumper worn by former East Fremantle and West Perth star Barney Sheedy (better known these days as Jack Sheedy's father).

The State jumper was reasonably consistent between 1935 and 1957, featuring a black swan on a gold jumper – the same design worn by our state team today.

A few of these have come out of the woodwork over the years, including the jumper worn by Subiaco champion Jeff Smith in the WA 2nd XVIII game against South Melbourne in 1950.

But perhaps my favourite type of State jumper was the style worn by WA from 1958 to 1963, which featured a black jumper with gold yolk and a black swan inside a yellow oval.

I've only ever seen a couple of these in private hands and, sadly, don't have one in my own collection. Brian "Blue" Foley's black jumper was recently donated to the West Perth Football Club, however, and has been on display in the club's new headquarters.

The next style of jumper was worn through until the switch to State of Origin in 1977.

It was a gold jumper with a black yolk and, almost always had a swan on the left breast. I have seen quite a few of these sold in recent years, including one that was worn by Bill Dempsey.

Then came the famous gold jumper with black sash, which WA wore with pride in State football through until 1988. It often included some form of commemorative logo on the sash, like Grant Campbell's 1979 jumper with WA's sesquicentenary logo on it or Paul Harding's 1985 jumper with the 100 years of WA football logo.

It was then back to the gold jumper with black swan for a few years, before WA took to the field for the second half of the 1990s in a black jumper with a gold WAFL logo on the front, like Guy McKenna's 1996 jumper.

The current jumper has been back in use since the early part of the new century.

It's also appropriate that this year's last reader request should come from a Subiaco supporter, given how the Lions have dominated the season.

Robin emailed during the week to inquire about a soft toy he had recently been given.

I have written about the soft toys – usually referred to as "mascots" – in previous editions of WAFL Collectables.

But a few have come out of the woodwork recently and it's always worth revisiting popular topics in the biggest-selling Football Budget of the year.

So, I can tell Robin that there were two sets of WAFL mascots, the first being released around 1980. These ones, which can stand up with the aid of the metal rods in their legs, are about 45cm tall and have white stripes on their boots.

The second set (which is the set Robin's belongs to) was produced a few years later, sometime around 1982. These were about 35cm tall, but can't stand on their own and have a loop in the top of their heads, so that they can be hung from a hook. They have yellow stripes on their boots.

I'm chasing photos of the East Perth, South Fremantle and Swans versions from the 1980 set, and the East Fremantle and Swans versions from the 1982 set, if anyone can assist?

Finally for 2018, I want to thank Budget readers for all their tips, feedback and advice over the course of the year.

It's the information and photos that come in from readers that helps to keep WAFL Collectables ticking along.

Don't forget that I'm contactable over the summer and love to get out to see people's collections during the break, either to start gathering material for WAFL Collectables in 2019 or for appraisal.

If you have a query regarding WAFL memorabilia, send photographs and/or details to Sean at blackswan@iinet.net.au or Sean Cowan, c/o Football Budget, PO Box 911, Subiaco WA 6904. His website is at www.waflcollectables.webs.com and he also can be contacted on 0412 760 004.

The SEASON that was...

ROUND 1

Subiaco signalled an intent that would remain all season when it smashed Leederville Oval co-tenant East Perth by 118 points. Brad Stevenson booted seven for the Lions. One media outlet was already forecasting the demise of the Royals.

Blair Bell and Shane Kersten ensured Peel got off to a good start in its premiership defence with the Thunder kicking 5.3 to 1.1 in the last term to overrun East Fremantle.

Sandover medallist Aaron Black had 40 possessions and applied 16 tackles as West Perth held off a fast-finishing Claremont at Joondalup Arena.

Former Shark and ex-Tiger Corey Yeo made a spirited return to the WAFL competition with Perth after knee injuries but it wasn't enough to stop Swan Districts securing a 45-point triumph at Lathlain Park.

ROUND 2

Midfielders Cam Eardley, George Hampson, Jarrad Jansen and Nick Kommer combined brilliantly to lead East Fremantle to its first win of 2018 – against Perth. There would be only one more for the Sharks this year.

So much for the doom at East Perth. The Royals rebounded from the spanking at the hand of Subiaco to register a 62-point win over arch-rival West Perth. The spirit was back, sparked by Sharrod Wellingham.

It was two wins on the trot for new Swan Districts coach Adam Pickering with the team's 14-point success over Peel. William Reidy starred with four goals.

Subiaco sent shockwaves through the competition when it defeated South Fremantle – the team viewed most likely to be the Lions' main challenger this year – by almost 10 goals.

ROUND 3

Four goals from Alex Manuel were crucial to Claremont shaking off East Fremantle by four points at home. The Sharks had led by 21 points at half-time.

The monster was getting bigger at Leederville Oval. Ben Sokol and Brad Stevenson supplied four goals each as Subiaco hit 18 goals or more for the third week in a row. Swan Districts was the latest victim, falling by 96 points.

Haiden Schloithe, Ashton Hams and Nick Suban controlled play through the middle as South Fremantle held off West Perth by eight points in Joondalup.

Forward Spencer White continued his positive start to the year with five goals as Perth got over Peel by a goal at Bendigo Bank Stadium. White had 10 goals from three matches.

ROUND 4

Another round, another 20-goal performance by Subiaco. This time it was Rhys Waters who led the rampage with five goals in an 86-point dumping of Claremont. Chris Phelan had 35 touches.

Shane Nelson touched the ball 47 times as West Perth moved into third place with its comfortable win over Swan Districts.

East Perth climbed to fourth on the back of a 37-point win over Perth. Notably, the Demons kicked 15.9 (99) in a losing effort. Six came late in the match.

South Fremantle finally found top gear as it motored over East Fremantle. The Bulldogs had 20 scoring shots to six in the first half.

ROUND 5

Tall forward Corey Gault starred with four goals but there were 12 other Swan Districts players who added to the list in a 90-point thrashing of East Fremantle. Jack Perham made the most of limited opportunities to kick three goals for the Sharks.

Tyler Keitel confirmed his status as one of the league's leading forwards with a five-goal haul in West Perth's big win over Perth. It took the Falcons to 3-2.

South Fremantle had 40 fewer possessions yet on the back of 47 hit-outs from Brock Higgins was able to post a 27-point win over Claremont in Albany.

Matthew Allen notched five as East Perth passed 20 goals for the third time this season in the 66-point defeat of Peel at Leederville Oval.

2018

ROUND 6

West Perth gave Subiaco a fright when it led for most of the first half of the clash in the Lions' den. But the hosts eventually prevailed as Kyal Horsley, Jordan Lockyer and Zac Clarke dominated after the long break.

The grunt of Shane Hockey and the slickness of Marlion Pickett guided South Fremantle to a 13-point win over Swan Districts.

Peel won its second match of 2018 with Danyle Pearce, Ben Howlett and Shane Kersten the instigators of the 20-point triumph over Claremont.

East Perth kicked 3.10 in the first quarter – and only another behind for the half – but still defeated East Fremantle 10.21 (81) to 6.12 (48) at the port.

STATE ROUND

The Black Swans didn't kick a goal in the first quarter but booted five when it counted in the final terms to claim a 26-point win over the SANFL in Adelaide.

Andrew Strijk and Corey Gault each supplied three goals while Claremont's Jye Bolton won the Simpson Medal for best afield for WA.

It was the WAFL's first interstate win in Adelaide since 1994.

» Brady Grey

ROUND 7

A snap at goal in the dying seconds by veteran Clint Jones secured a one-point win for Perth over Claremont. It left the Tigers on one win from six matches.

Cory Dell'Olio and Mason Shaw shone in attack as South Fremantle reminded East Perth of its limitations with an 11-goal win at Leederville Oval. It snapped the Royals' four-game winning streak.

Veteran Andrew Strijk kicked eight goals as West Perth pummelled East Fremantle. The Falcons had 13.4 on the board by half-time en route to a 24.14 (158) to 10.10 (70) win.

Subiaco enjoyed its latest win. After losing to AFL-talent-packed Peel in the previous two grand finals the Lions got a little bit back on the Thunder with a 92-point victory in Mandurah.

ROUND 8

Hope returned to Moss St with East Fremantle notching win No.2 for 2018. The Sharks kept Peel goalless in the opening stanza as they registered a four-goal win.

Ruckman Nathan Blakely had 24 hit-outs and 27 possessions in Swan Districts' 13-point triumph over East Perth.

Claremont hinted at better things to come with Tom Lee kicking four goals in the Tigers' six-point upset over South Fremantle.

No-one gave Perth a chance against Subiaco. With Brant Colledge, Clayton Giblett and Corey Byrne impressive the Demons were only eight points down at three-quarter-time but eventually lost by 40 points.

ROUND 9

Brandon Matera came back to the WAFL from Fremantle duty and booted three goals in Peel's 11-point win over the Tigers at Claremont Oval.

David Ellard and Steven Payne gave Swan Districts' forwards plenty of the ball and Brayden Noble obliged with five goals in a 30-point triumph against Perth that entrenched the black and whites in fourth spot on the ladder.

There was another big haul for Tyler Keitel (six goals) in West Perth's 24-point success over East Perth in the WA Day clash at Joondalup Arena.

East Fremantle couldn't score a goal in the first quarter and spent the rest of the day watching South Fremantle run rings around the team. Brandon Donaldson kicked four goals for the Bulldogs.

» Zac Clarke

» Kirk Ugle

ROUND 10

Albany product Dylan Smallwood had 23 disposals and reeled in 11 marks on debut to help Claremont to a 20-point win over Swan Districts. It was only the Tigers' third win of the year.

The Sharks didn't kick a goal in the first term last week. This round it took them until the third quarter to find the big sticks in the 103-point loss to Subiaco. Kyal Horsley was brilliant for the Lions.

Five goals from Lachlan Dennis and the hard work of Devin McFarlane and Mitch Henderson helped Perth produce one of the biggest upsets of the year – a six-point win over second-placed South Fremantle. The Demons moved to 3-6.

Peel breathed life into its season and showed it could still match the teams near the top of the ladder with a three-point success against West Perth.

ROUND 11

The giant leap and long reach of West Perth ruckman Chris Keunen on the last line of defence denied Claremont a late goal and ensured the Falcons snatched a one-point thriller. Andrew Strijk booted five goals for the visitors.

Lachlan Delahunty and Braden Fimmano were the best for Subiaco as it notched win No.9 over an East Perth team that didn't kick its first goal until the third term.

Four goals from Cory Dell'Olio and solid work upfield from Chad Pearson and Jacob Dragovich guaranteed South Fremantle a 35-point result over Peel at the port.

ROUND 12

The defensive work of Bailey Rogers and four goals from Ian Richardson set up Claremont's 32-point success over East Perth at Leederville Oval. It was the Royals' fifth loss in a row.

Leigh Kitchin was this week's Subiaco player in profile after he led the Lions to yet another positive result. The unlucky victim this round was Swan Districts.

Twenty-six possessions and eight marks in the defensive half of the ground from Blake Wilhelm played a big part in West Perth's 15.6 (96) to 11.9 (75) win in the battle with Perth.

ROUND 13

The WAFL went back to the country with East Fremantle hosting Claremont in Geraldton. It wasn't a happy homecoming to the Sharks' regional base with the Tigers taking the W by 20 points.

Five goals from Ryan Borchet and Lachlan Delahunty were too much for West Perth to counter at Joondalup Arena as 5602 spectators watched Subiaco get its 11th straight victory.

A nine-goal second quarter was the backbone of South Fremantle's 16.9 (105) to 12.12 (84) win against a slow-finishing East Perth.

Defender Taylin Duman, ruckman Sean Darcy and the hard-working Brayden Lawler got Peel over the line in a thrilling last quarter against Swan Districts at Bendigo Bank Stadium.

ROUND 14

There was grave concern Peel would achieve a dubious feat when it trailed 0.4 to 5.13 at three-quarter-time of the contest with Subiaco. Fortunately, Matt Piggott and Luke Strnadica slotted goals in the final term. The Lions still won by 52 points.

It was a better effort from East Fremantle this week but the Sharks still couldn't avoid a 30-point defeat against a West Perth team lifted by five goals from Corey Chalmers.

Perth got to two goals off fifth spot with a convincing triumph over Swan Districts at Steel Blue Oval. Cody Ninyette provided the firepower with five goals.

South Fremantle maintained its one-game buffer over West Perth in second spot by disposing of Claremont. Zac Strom, Haiden Schloithe and Dylan Main led the Bulldogs' charge.

ROUND 15

A lot of talk in 2018 focused on Subiaco's forward production. Its defence was just as strong. That was clearly evident when the Lions restricted their closest challenger, South Fremantle, to 3.10 (28) in a 10-goal win.

Swan Districts slumped to its fifth straight loss when it was outclassed by East Perth. Jack Petruccelle and Liam Ryan provided three goals each for the Royals.

The excitement level at Lathlain Park hit 11 on the loudness scale after Perth's home win over Peel thrust the Demons to fourth spot on the premiership table.

» Jacob Dragovich

ROUND 16

The weather was atrocious for this set of fixtures and it showed in East Perth posting a final score of 3.7 (25) in the loss to Claremont – 6.13 (49).

Swan Districts was in danger of slipping from finals contention after a 90-point setback against West Perth. Shane Nelson continued to be a ball magnet for the Falcons.

The Demons' juggernaut continued. Kristian Cary provided five goals while Michael Sinclair maintained his impressive form in the second half of the season to lift Perth to a 17.11 (113) to 10.12 (72) win over East Fremantle.

Peel's premiership defence got a lifeline when Mitch Crowden, Brady Grey and Ben Howlett combined to plot South Fremantle's downfall in Mandurah.

ROUND 17

For a few moments in the final quarter Claremont dared to dream about the upset of the season. The Tigers led the unbeaten Subiaco late in the battle at Claremont Oval. But Subiaco found a way to be in front at the final siren and notch its 14th win of 2018.

A six-match losing streak was snapped by Swan Districts with a 34-point victory over East Fremantle. Kirk Ugle booted four goals for the winners.

Will Maginness slotted through three goals as East Perth held on by three points in the clash with Perth at Leederville Oval. Matt Allen and Pat McGinnity were best for the Royals.

West Perth moved into second spot with victory over Peel but the Falcons had played one more match than third-placed South Fremantle.

ROUND 18

For the second time in three matches Swan Districts kicked 4.4 (28) and like the first occasion, that total wasn't enough to secure victory. It was even tougher in this case because the opponent was Subiaco. Another win for the Lions.

South Fremantle had to rely on Shane Hockey, Zac Strom, Blayne Wilson and Brandon Donaldson to eke out a five-point victory in the arm-wrestle with West Perth. But the Falcons held on to second spot.

Peel continued its late charge towards the finals with a four-goal success against another challenger East Perth. Tom Sheridan was best for the Thunder.

ROUND 19

There was still some life left in East Perth as it kicked 23.13 (151) to East Fremantle's 5.7 (37). Jake Waterman kicked seven goals and Oscar Allen added four.

The leadership of Nick Suban was evident in South Fremantle's 30-point win over Swan Districts. The loss ended the black and whites' finals hopes.

Subiaco began to dream of an undefeated season after notching win No.16 against West Perth. Angus Litherland, Josh Deluca and Chris Phelan led the Lions' onslaught.

Perth's valiant bid for a top-five berth was looking shaky after Claremont notched an eight-goal triumph at Lathlain Park. Jared Hardisty was outstanding for the Tigers.

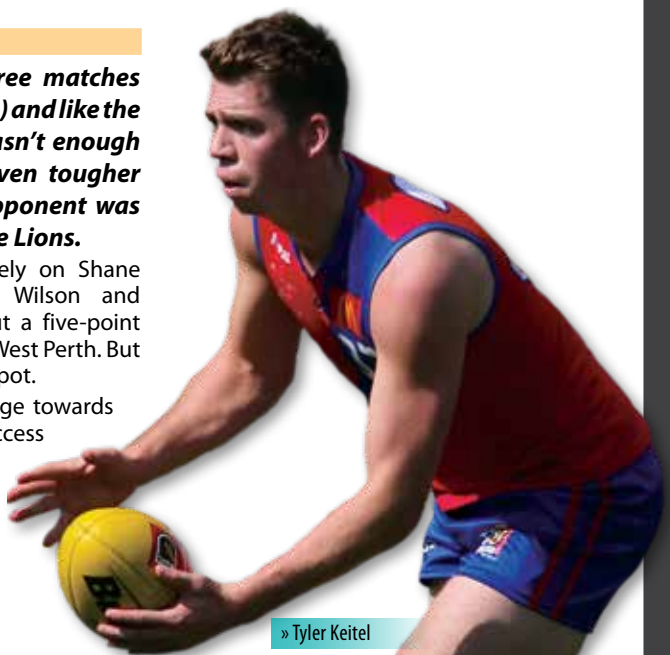
ROUND 20

After spending most of the season outside the finals berths Claremont leapt to fourth on the back of its eight-point success against Peel. The Thunder led by 11 points at quarter time.

The season couldn't end quick enough for East Fremantle after its 20.17 (137) to 6.10 (46) loss to Subiaco at the port. Zac Clarke was the key for the Lions, complementing his ruck work with four goals.

East Perth faced the prospect of having to defeat Peel in Mandurah in the final round to make the finals following its 18-point loss to West Perth.

A seven-goal haul from Mason Shaw gave Perth little chance of inflicting another defeat of South Fremantle this season. The Bulldogs had 11 goalscorers.



» Tyler Keitel

ROUND 21

The humiliation of East Fremantle was complete with a 113-point loss to arch-rival South Fremantle to end a wooden spoon season. Dylan Main and Mason Shaw each booted five goals for the Bulldogs.

Perth needed a miracle to make the finals. Subiaco ensured it didn't happen with a 12-goal triumph to seal 18 wins from 18 starts in 2018.

For the second time this season Alex Manuel kicked Claremont to victory. His five goals were crucial in the Tigers' 13.13 (91) to 13.8 (86) victory against Swan Districts.

» Jared Hardisty

East Perth crept into the finals in the "winner takes all" clash with Peel at Bendigo Bank Stadium. The Royals' win meant the Thunder missed out on the September action after winning the past two WAFL premierships.

Qualifying and Elimination Finals

It was always going to be tough for East Perth to overcome Claremont in the Elimination Final after kicking just 0.1 in the first quarter.

Kane Mitchell and Haydn Busher were outstanding for the Tigers through midfield while five goals from Tom Lee gave the home team plenty of breathing space in a 28-point win. It was mothballs for the Royals.

Mason Shaw also stood tall in attack at Fremantle Community Bank Oval as the hosts gave West Perth a lesson in the Qualifying Final.

With Nick Suban, Marlion Pickett and Zac Strom impressive, South Fremantle claimed a 22.12 (144) to 6.10 (46) victory.

First and Second Semi-Finals

Midfielders Luke Meadows and Dean Munns played key roles in West Perth's First Semi-Final victory over Claremont at Joondalup Arena.

The Falcons got the jump on the Tigers and never released their grip on the match. Ryan Lim and Keifer Yu worked hard for the vanquished.

Experienced WAFL finalist Josh Deluca starred for Subiaco as it continued on its winning way to the Grand Final. But the Lions didn't have it their own way in the Second Semi-Final at Leederville Oval.

Chad Pearson and Dylan Main were strong for the Bulldogs, who missed premier ruckman Brock Higgins because of an ankle injury.

Preliminary Final

West Perth threw everything at South Fremantle in the opening quarter of the Preliminary Final at the port and it rattled the Bulldogs.

A 19-point lead at the first change proved to be match-winning as the Bulldogs couldn't reel in the runaway Falcons.

Andrew Strijk was important to the West Perth result, kicking four goals while Luke Meadows was outstanding through midfield.

Jacob Dragovich was best for South Fremantle.

Young Lion claims top Colts prize.

Subiaco's Liam Hickmott produced an outstanding series of performances over the closing rounds to win the WAFL Colts Player of the Year award.

The prize is given by the WA Combined Past Players and Officials Association and based on the votes generated by the Colts coaches over the course of the season.

When the award judging went in camera after Round 17 Hickmott had 27 votes and trailed Peel Thunder's Lachlan Riley by one vote.

But Hickmott collected 19 out of a possible 20 votes over the final four rounds to take the prize with 46 votes.

Riley was second with 36 votes while another Lion, Tristan Hobley, was third on 33 votes.

Hickmott is the son of former Carlton utility player and current West Coast assistant coach Adrian Hickmott.

The junior Hickmott is a strong chance to be drafted by Carlton under the father-son recruiting rule.

SUBIACO V SWAN DISTRICTS

A lot has been made about the winning run of the Subiaco League team in 2018.

The teenagers in the Lions' Colts line-up have been inspired to create their own hot streak, winning 12 matches on the trot to be clear favourites for the under-age premiership.

There are a few members of the team who could well be looking at further honours at the AFL Draft in November.

2018 MEETINGS

Round 3: Subiaco 12.6 (78) d Swan Districts 5.12 (42)

Round 12: Swan Districts 5.11 (41) lost to Subiaco 9.8 (62)

Round 18: Subiaco 9.5 (59) d Swan Districts 3.3 (21)

Second Semi-Final: Subiaco 14.10 (94) d Swan Districts 7.6 (48)

Simply Energy WAFL Colts Team Of The Year

With Tristan Hobley, Liam Hickmott, Luke Foley and Zane Shellabear-Healey combining brilliantly, the Lions have had a highly destructive midfield.

And they have kept the Subiaco forwards busy. Carine product Jack Mayo has made the most of the opportunities to kick 48.43 in 19 matches. He topped the WAFL Colts goalkicking list by more than 20 goals.

Ben Golding and Nathan French were prominent in the Lions' win over Swan Districts in the Second Semi-Final.

But Swan Districts, under former League coach Greg Harding, have worked hard to get another chance at the trophy.

Speedy onballer Riley Garcia has been one of the black-and-whites' leading contributors this season and was critical to Swans' Preliminary Final win over Peel last week.

Mitch Bain has had Reserves and League experience with Swan Districts this year and returns to be an important threat to Subiaco.

Forward Kade Wallrodt kicked four goals in the Second Semi-Final and will need to again offer himself as a target if Swans are to trouble the Lions.

There has been a solid turnaround in form by the black and whites in September after the Colts team dropped two of its final three home-and-away clashes, including a defeat to Subiaco in Round 18. But they struggled in the latest clash with the Lions – the losing Second Semi-Final.

Swan Districts most recently won the Colts flag in 2014.

2018 GRAND FINAL
134TH PREMIERSHIP

EAST PERTH V SUBIACO

» Shayne Hille

» Nick Menegola

For one of the rare times on WAFL Grand Final day one team, Subiaco, will have its playing resources stretched to the limit.

With all three grades in premiership action the Lions Reserves line-up doesn't have the luxury of dropping players back from League level, or lifting them from the Colts, to boost the team.

However, Subiaco, under Matt Cavedon, have done well enough with the resources at its disposal, winning 13 of 18 home-and-away matches.

So, the loss to East Perth in the Second Semi-Final was surprising and not just because the Lions blew a 44-point lead to fall by seven points.

Seasoned Subiaco players Adam Cockie, Brad Stevenson and Craig Hoskins ensured a far more consistent unit in the Preliminary Final win over Claremont. But whether it was enough to earn Cockie and Stevenson a recall to the League Grand Final team is something likely to be determined on the morning of the match.

The Lions still have plenty of senior experience with Kaidyn Fullgrabe and Nick Menegola getting their chance at senior level in 2018.

East Perth's alignment with West Coast has meant that some first-choice League players had to line up in the lower grade at times during the season and Stan Wright, Shayne Hille, Callum Hart and Tom Gorter have been able to qualify for the Reserves finals.

The Royals will look to high-leaping Ajang Ajang, who got a taste of League level in three matches this season, to lead the ruck and give the team first use of the ball.

SUBIACO

By Ross Lewis

Simply sensational Subiaco prove too hard to catch

Men of influence: Where do you start? There were so many talented contributors to the Subiaco cause that it is going to be cruel to miss someone.

So, we'll start at the top. Captain Kyal Horsley was considered by many WAFL watchers as the most influential player in the competition. His on-ground leadership was also considered a vital cog in the Lions' machine.

Put Leigh Kitchin, Chris Phelan, Josh Deluca and Max Walters around Horsley and Subiaco maintained a midfield that was simply the best in 2018. Ben Newton was busy at the start and the end of the regular rounds.

Former Fremantle big man Zac Clarke gave the Lions another dimension with his ruck work and presence around the ground. Clarke's contribution was so telling that at 28 he is still being considered as a chance to return to the AFL arena.

Drew Rohde, Angus Litherland, Aaron Heal and Jordan Lockyer held together a Subiaco defensive unit that conceded an average of 51 points per match.

First half of the season: The first chorus is just like the second.

The WAFL community knew something was afoot when Subiaco smashed an AFL-player-boosted East Perth by 118 points in the opening round. It essentially set the tone for the rest of the campaign.

It looked even more ominous when the Lions disposed of South Fremantle, considered a likely challenger for the premiership by 58 points eight days later.

Such was Subiaco's dominance that it kicked 18 goals or more in four of its first five matches.

There were some minor concerns for Jarrad Schofield's outfit. In Round 6 West Perth were 22 points behind the league trendsetters at the final siren, considered something of an achievement for every other team in the competition.

East Perth did a little better in Round 11 with an 18-point loss but it couldn't prevent Subiaco from sitting pretty at 9-0.

Second half of the season: Repeat above. Almost.

Sure, there was the 82-point drubbing of Swan Districts in Round 12 but the Lions did find it difficult to continue kicking the big totals in the run to the finals.

Then in Round 17 the word went quickly around the grounds that Claremont might pull off the big upset.

The Tigers led midway through the final term before Leigh Kitchin, Rowen Powell, Ben Sokol and Lachlan Delahunty found a way for Subiaco to eke out a three-point win.

It would be the closest any rival got to the Lions. A 72-point success over Perth in Round 21 ensured Subiaco would be the first WAFL team to go through a season undefeated since East Fremantle in 1946.

Indeed, it also took the Lions to 37-1 from home-and-away matches in 2017 and 2018.

Young guns: Even though it was the band of seasoned players that established Subiaco's dominance, the club wasn't frightened to also give youth a chance.

Goldfields product Ben Miller appeared early in the season and stayed for 16 matches. Another from Kalgoorlie's Railways Football Club, Ryan Borchet, popped up to play an important forward role during the season.

Kingsley's Tom Edwards-Baldwin enjoyed his chance in the senior side during the second half of the season, kicking 15 goals in eight matches.

Last year: 19 wins, 1 loss – Finished 1st (H&A)

This year: 18 wins, 0 losses – Finished 1st (H&A)

The coach: There is no doubt Jarrad Schofield had some unfinished business to settle in 2018 after losing twice to Peel in WAFL grand finals. Yet managing success can at times be as difficult as trying to manufacture it. Players can get too far ahead of themselves. Ensuring the hunger for League success remained at the forefront of team desire was a considerable achievement for Schofield.

Falcons fight on and off the field

By Ross Lewis

Men of influence: They're the fab four of the Falcons.

Shane Nelson, Aaron Black, Luke Meadows and Trent Manzone are not only the leading possession winners in the team, they took out four of the top 13 places in the competition.

The quartet also didn't miss a match in the home-and-away rounds.

Blake Wilhelm had the best of his four seasons at League level and was particularly important to West Perth in the second half of the year.

Big man Chris Keunen, in his final season, was the ruck mainstay and literally saved a game with his own hand when he got a finger on a shot for goal in a one-point win over Claremont.

In attack, Tyler Keitel and veteran Andrew Strijk had their own private goalkicking battle with the pair tying for the Bernie Naylor Medal with 43 goals apiece.

First half of the season: An 18-point win over Claremont, coached by West Perth favourite son Darren Harris, was a solid way to kickstart the new campaign.

But the following two rounds left a few of the Falcons faithful wondering if their club was a genuine premiership contender.

A 58-point loss to East Perth at the spiritual Leederville Oval home was particularly unpalatable. It was followed by an eight-point defeat to South Fremantle, seen as the Falcons' main rival for a top-two berth in 2018.

Midfielder Shane Nelson then collected 47 disposals and reeled in eight marks to guide West Perth to a 31-point win over Swan Districts.

And a week later Tyler Keitel provided five goals as his team rolled Perth by 62 points at Lathlain Park.

A 22-point loss to Subiaco ended up not being a bad result in Round 6 because not too many rivals got that close to the Lions this season.

Subsequent wins over East Fremantle (88 points), with Andrew Strijk booting eight goals, and East Perth (24) thrust West Perth to third and by the mid-point of the schedule it was 5-4.

Second half of the season: If Peel hadn't snatched a three-point triumph at Bendigo Bank Stadium the Falcons would have enjoyed a five-match winning run between rounds 7 to 12.

They used Chris Keunen's fingernail to secure a victory over the Tigers by the smallest possible margin then in Round 13 Bill Monaghan's team ran into Subiaco. And like so many teams trying to build up confidence it was deflated by the Lions.

West Perth quickly recovered to notch three consecutive victories for the only time in 2018 with East Fremantle, Swan Districts and Peel Thunder falling victim in rounds 14, 16 and 17.

After struggling to push through the ceiling, the trio of triumphs elevated the lads from Joondalup to second spot, albeit having played one more match than the deposed South Fremantle.

While the Bulldogs couldn't reclaim the position despite defeating the Falcons in Round 18, the result signalled a tough run to the finals for West Perth.

When Subiaco made it three from three battles with the Falcons in 2018 Monaghan's men fell to third and would remain there for the remainder of the regular season.

Young guns: In his third season Mitch Peirce (21) cemented his place in the West Perth midfield, showing his potential with 29 touches against Subiaco in Round 19.

Nathan Alexandre (21) was a highly reliable defender while also being a strong rebounder out of danger for the Falcons.

Connor West (20), the son of 1992 Sandover medallist Robbie West, got his first taste of League football in Round 4 and was also part of the line-up for two of the Falcons' final three matches of the regular draw.

Last year: 10 wins, 10 losses – Finished 5th (H&A)

This year: 11 wins, 7 losses – Finished 3rd (H&A)

The coach: It is tough enough coaching a WAFL League team let alone do it amid concerns about the future of the club. Bill Monaghan had that task as the Falcons fought for off-field survival and it was his guidance that helped the on-field unit put aside the outside pressures and perform. Monaghan also became the first West Perth coach to notch 200 matches, which was realised against East Perth in Round 9.

SUBIACO V WEST PERTH

2018 GRAND FINAL 134TH PREMIERSHIP

New ground breaks premiership mould

It is the great WAFL unknown.

While most competition observers are concentrating on Subiaco's winning streak or West Perth's ability to challenge the Lions at times this season, few have considered the venue where the 2018 premiership match will be played.

And the uncertainty about what Optus Stadium can herald in its first WAFL Grand Final is the great unknown.

At 165m long by 130m wide the new great multi-purpose venue in Burswood provides a factor that neither the Lions or Falcons have experienced. Those ground dimensions are something of a rarity in the local league.

Which team does it suit? Can either the Lions or Falcons get a gauge from the AFL battles at the ground? Will it result in a game played via the wings? Stay tuned.

Whatever the strategy, Subiaco go into the match with the confidence that few have possessed in 134 WAFL seasons.

The Lions are on a 19-game winning streak. Indeed, no-one has beaten them this year. If you go back to Round 1 2017, Subiaco has won 39 of 42 matches.

Yet if one team troubled the Lions on a regular basis this year, it was the Falcons.

Let's go back to rounds 6 and 13. Sure, they were 22-point and 33-point victories for Jarrad Schofield's men.

However, Bill Monaghan's unit gave Subiaco some headaches in those matches. They hope to improve on those performances to ruin the Lions' season.

Shane Nelson has been a key in standing up to the Lions' band of rampaging midfielders. He averaged 32 possessions in the two matches and looms as the spark that can ignite West Perth towards a major upset.

Andrew Strijk was damaging in the latter battle with four goals on the back of nine marks. And Chris Keunen dominated in the ruck.

However, when it counted, the Lions were able to draw on their own midfield talent to overcome the challenge.

While the stars got the recognition, it must be remembered that defenders Aaron Heal, Jordan Lockyer and Drew Rohde, hard-working onballers Justin Joyce and Ben Newton plus forwards Ben Sokol and Rhys Waters helped provide the impetus to victory.

SOUTH FREMANTLE

Midfield grunt gives bark to Bulldogs

Men of influence: He already has a Sandover Medal in the trophy cabinet and Haiden Schloithe had another outstanding year in the South Fremantle midfield.

Coach Todd Curley was also keen to play Schloithe as a permanent small forward at times during the season and he responded to the challenge by kicking 21.6.

Jacob Dragovich might be small in stature, but he had a big impact in the Bulldogs engine room.

Former Fremantle ace Nick Suban injected plenty of experience into the South Fremantle on-ball brigade and was the dogged ying to the dazzling yang from Marlion Pickett, whose speed and solid use of the ball made him one of the most exciting players to watch in 2018.

Shane Hockey and Shaun Bewick had highly impressive efforts in the backend of the season while ruckman Brock Higgins grew into one of the most influential big men in the competition.

Mason Shaw was also damaging up forward after the mid-way mark of the draw, finishing with 39 goals for the year.

First half of the season: A bye and a loss to Subiaco meant South Fremantle had to wait until Round 3 to notch its opening victory for the year.

And it took Matthew Parker and Ashton Hams to help the Bulldogs get past West Perth by eight points.

However, the result put the Bulldogs into action as the club won five matches in a row to race to second spot on the ladder.

Only a six-point loss to Claremont, albeit at Fremantle Community Bank Oval, prevented Todd Curley's men from putting together a seven-game victory streak.

South Fremantle rebounded from the surprise defeat in Round 8 to punish East Fremantle by 73 points before suffering arguably its worst loss for the year.

A gritty Perth relished its home ground advantage to knock off the Bulldogs by a goal. Yet, in the end, only two kicks were the difference between an 8-1 record and the 6-3 tally South Fremantle had at the turn.

Second half of the season: At least the Bulldogs didn't let the setbacks get to them.

Triumphs over Peel, East Perth and Claremont between rounds 11-14 put the team back on the right course. At that point South Fremantle seemed the strongest challenger to the rampaging Subiaco unit.

Then the Bulldogs ran into the Lions.

In a very worrying sign for the rest of the competition the second-placed South Fremantle kicked just 3.10 (28) in a 10-goal drubbing against the No.1 team in the league.

And when Peel made it two losses on the trot for the Bulldogs, second spot was in jeopardy. Indeed, the consecutive defeats enabled West Perth to temporarily take second spot.

The Falcons worked hard to keep the berth in the Round 16 battle at the port but Brandon Donaldson, Blayne Wilson, Zac Strom and Shane Hockey lifted to seal a five-point win for the hosts.

South Fremantle rounded out the home-and-away season with wins over Swan Districts, Perth and East Fremantle to secure the hosting rights for the Qualifying Final.

Young guns: Twenty-year-old Chad Pearson, in his second League season, became a regular of the South Fremantle defence, playing every match in 2018.

Kyle Russell, 20, was also able to settle into the Bulldogs line-up in the second half of the season.

Although a little older at 22, Matthew Parker again showed those with the AFL clipboards at WAFL matches that he could still offer plenty at football's highest level.

Last year: 16 wins, 4 losses – Finished 2nd (H&A)

This year: 13 wins, 5 losses – Finished 2nd (H&A)

The coach: If South Fremantle had been able to reverse the two six-point losses to Claremont and Perth then it would have been an outstanding season for Todd Curley. As it was Curley did another impressive job without the resources available to main rival Subiaco (and an AFL-laden Peel in 2016 and 2017). Curley's astuteness on game day was also integral to some strong second-half efforts from the Bulldogs.

CLAREMONT FOOTBALL CLUB

CLAREMONT

By Ross Lewis

Tigers roar back to the finals

Men of influence: With two Sandover medallists, Kane Mitchell and Jye Bolton, in midfield it is understandable that Claremont's best work originated through the pair.

Bolton averaged more than 30 possessions per match in 2018. And he also collected the Simpson Medal in WA's interstate win over the SANFL in Adelaide.

But Jared Hardisty, Ryan Lim, Haydn Busher off a wing, and the diligent Keifer Yu across half back, were also instrumental to the Tigers' stronger second half of the season.

Hardisty was also productive when without the ball, applying 144 tackles in home-and-away rounds at an average of eight a game.

Anton Hamp has matured into one of the competition's most dependable tall defenders and Bailey Rogers again caught AFL scouts' eyes in the back half.

First half of the season: There were a lot of WAFL observers scratching their heads at Claremont's start to 2018.

By Round 7 only a superior percentage kept the Tigers off bottom spot on the ladder. Indeed, the only win to that point was a four-point victory over cellar dweller East Fremantle in Round 3.

The one-point loss to Perth at the end of a four-match losing streak raised strong doubts about whether Darren Harris' unit was finals material.

Then, in Round 8, Tom Lee kicked four goals and Declan Hardisty starred in defence as Claremont produced one of the upsets of the season to that point when it claimed a six-point triumph over second-placed South Fremantle.

However, in what summed up much of the Tigers' season, the success over South was followed by a loss to Peel at Claremont Oval.

After nine rounds, Claremont was 3-6 and sitting seventh, one match and considerable percentage outside the top five.

Second half of the season: It was a cruel way to lose and the one-point defeat to West Perth could well have ended the Tigers' 2018 campaign.

A shot for goal in the dying seconds of the entertaining Round 11 clash was touched on the line by Falcons ruckman Chris Keunen, denying the home team a much-needed win.

The result prompted a series of strong internal meetings inside the inner sanctum of Claremont Oval. And what followed was a far stronger Tigers roar.

Claremont went 6-2 to close the season. The setbacks were against second-placed South Fremantle and the unbeatable Subiaco.

But Anton Hamp, Jack Beeck, Ryan Lim and three goals from Ian Richardson helped the Tigers get closer to the Lions than any other team this home-and-away season. The three-point-loss was frustrating.

Young guns: Declan Hardisty got his first League chance in Round 5 and quickly became a mainstay of the Claremont defence. Coach Harris wasn't shy in handing Hardsity some tough backline roles.

Dylan Smallwood is considerably taller but he, too, made an impact in the back end of the ground. He certainly has caught the eyes of AFL teams.

At just 20, Oliver Eastland carried the Claremont role for much of the season and while he was at times undersized and without as much experience, he continued to give his direct opponent plenty to consider.

Last year: 8 wins, 12 losses – Finished 7th (H&A)

This year: 9 wins, 9 losses – Finished 4th (H&A)

The coach: Improvement on previous year's results is always the main goal of any coach and Darren Harris can tick that off his list of KPIs.

Indeed, Harris had herded the Tigers into arguably the third strongest team by the end of the home-and-away season.

Blooding more youth to cover some departing or soon-to-retire veterans will be crucial to Claremont's continued development.

EAST PERTH

Rollercoaster ride for the Royals

By Ross Lewis

Men of influence: There was a high turnover of talent in the East Perth line-up, the result of the club's alignment with AFL club West Coast. Fortunately for many Royals supporters, that arrangement is now over.

Two current and one former Eagle were the key contributors to the Royals' cause. Luke Partington touched the ball more times (429) than any other East Perth player and Brayden Ainsworth continued to develop into a quality on-baller.

But it was Pat McGinnity who most epitomised the Royals' spirit. The hard- nosed captain, who almost relishes the opportunity to go head-first towards the football, averaged just over 25 possessions per match.

Sharrod Wellingham injected some much-needed experience into the East Perth unit but his first half of the season was better than the second half.

Small forward Will Maginness didn't miss a match in 2018, topping the club goalkicking list with 26.

Injury and AFL duty restricted Fraser McInnes to 12 WAFL matches although he remained the Royals' leading big man. Asher Samelko provided valuable back-up and at times impressed in the run to the finals.

First half of the season: At mid-point East Perth was in the top five. Just.

The start was less than promising. Co-tenant Subiaco handed the Royals a hiding in Round 1, stitching up the neighbours by 118 points. It was enough for one WAFL writer to call for undertakers on East Perth's behalf.

But the reports of the Royals' demise were greatly exaggerated when eight days later the team defeated arch-rival and top-three fancy West Perth by 58 points. That is a 176-point turnaround. So much for that alleged lack of spirit.

The victory over West Perth sparked a four-match winning run and, quick as a flash, Luke Webster's men were sitting in third spot.

It would be the highest the Royals sat at all season.

From the highs come the falls and East Perth endured a slide that produced four losses on the trot which put the Royals in fifth spot at the turn.

Second half of the season: The East Perth match committee couldn't stem the flow and with two more defeats – to Claremont and South Fremantle – Luke Webster's band notched six consecutive negative results to seemingly watch its finals chances slip away.

The appearance of Liam Ryan in a Royals guernsey, the speed of Jack Petruccelle, great ruckwork from Nathan Vardy and the usually consistent contributions from Pat McGinnity and Will Maginness sparked a turnaround. Of sorts.

The Round 15 win by 61 points over Swan Districts arrested the slide. But East Perth only remained in the hunt for a finals berth because of other teams' misfortunes.

The Royals went WLWLWLW over the final seven rounds to sneak into fifth spot. After slumping to Peel at Bendigo Bank Stadium in Round 18 the season looked over.

But three weeks later East Perth returned to the same ground and defeated the same opponent to climb to fifth.

Young guns: While the constant criticism of the AFL alignment often overshadowed the Royals' matches, it must be remembered that many of the Eagles lining up in the WAFL were tyros.

Jarrod Brander (19), Matthew Allen (20), Josh Rotham (20) and Brayden Ainsworth (19) took important career steps with East Perth this season.

Another 19-year-old, Oscar Allen, enjoyed a very impressive second half of the season, a fact noted by the West Coast selectors.

Last year: 9 wins, 11 losses – Finished 6th (H&A)

This year: 8 wins, 10 losses – Finished 5th (H&A)

The coach: East Perth was slightly more productive under Luke Webster in his second year at the helm. The Royals averaged one more goal per game in 2018. Webster was also facing a tough assignment because of West Coast's requirements for its players but although the alignment has now been terminated it would be outstanding if the former player could continue in the role to give him the chance to coach in his own right.

Spalding has Demons on the rise

By Ross Lewis

Men of influence: Arguably the most exciting aspect of being a long-suffering Perth supporter was watching how well the Demons developed with some older, wiser heads in the line-up.

Any coach knows Clint Jones will pick up 25-plus possessions per match. Yet this season he was ably complemented by Corey Yeo, who would have won the Comeback of the Year Award if the WAFL had one, with former West Coast squad member Brant Colledge in support.

Yeo played all 18 matches in 2018, proving he is over the knee injuries that affected his tenure at East Fremantle and Claremont.

However, Earl Spalding has also been able to get sufficient game time into fairest-and-best winner Michael Sinclair, Corey Byrne and Laine Wilkins to give Perth a senior brigade that it has sadly lacked for many seasons.

Cody Leggett added some excitement to the Demons midfield and his long-kicking was an early feature for his team.

First half of the season: After succumbing to Swan Districts and East Fremantle in the first two rounds there was the conjecture that WAFL watchers would see the same old Perth this season.

A six-point win over Peel didn't dispel the theory and it was backed up by two more losses to East Perth and West Perth.

After five rounds just East Fremantle had a worse record than Perth's 1-4 and the only reason the Sharks were lower on the ladder was because of an inferior percentage.

Even a one-point triumph over Claremont couldn't dissuade the doubters, who were even more confident in their opinions after Subiaco and South Fremantle claimed wins. It was 2-6 for Earl Spalding's men. More pain for the fans.

Then came the Demons' resurrection.

Out of nowhere Perth notched a six-point win over South Fremantle in game No.9 for the season. And it is amazing the self-belief it injected into the boys at Lathlain Park.

Second half of the season: The solid results continued after the half-way mark with a 10-goal drubbing of East Fremantle.

Although there was a loss to West Perth in Round 12, Perth was far from disgraced and it actually gave the club a further degree of optimism.

Then came the purple patch for the old Redlegs. With Clayton Giblett, Mitch Henderson and Kristian Cary rising to the occasion, the Demons enjoyed a three-game winning run that had just about everyone in the league dreaming of Perth's first finals appearance since 1997.

By Round 16 Perth was sitting fourth with a 7-7 record. The Demons had become a serious concern.

However, it was all false hope. Consecutive losses to East Perth, Claremont, South Fremantle and Subiaco – a cruel run – meant Perth didn't win another match in 2018 to miss the finals for another season.

Young guns: He might be 22 but Cody Leggett missed the entire 2017 season due to leg injuries and he burst back into the Perth line-up like a young buck this year.

Cody Ninyette (20) remained in the eye of AFL talent scouts by kicking 26.15.

Perth is also very content with the way Corey Byrne, at 21, has developed into a team leader after 40 League matches in three seasons.

Last year: 3 wins, 17 losses – Finished 9th (H&A)

This year: 7 wins, 11 losses – Finished 6th (H&A)

The coach: While there was understandably a lot of chatter about Jarrad Schofield being WAFL Coach of the Year because of Subiaco's unbeaten season there is no doubt Earl Spalding was a worthy challenger. Spalding doesn't have access to the playing and non-playing resources available to the Lions. Yet he extracted considerable improvement from his charges, lifting Perth from being a League cellar dweller to finals material. Watch for more in 2019.

PEEL THUNDER

No triple treat for the Thunder

By Ross Lewis

Men of influence: There is no doubt Danyle Pearce would rather have been somewhere else for most of 2018.

But when he was wearing the Peel teal he gave his all and the AFL veteran was clearly the Thunder's best contributor for the year. Indeed, he was one of the best in the league in 16 matches.

Ben Howlett returned from a valuable career with Essendon to inject plenty of defensive pressure into the Thunder midfield. Howlett averaged eight tackles per match.

Another local product, Traye Bennell, established himself as a mainstay of the Mandurah team, playing every match this year.

The regular presence of Brayden Lawler and Blair Bell also gave a team, hit by the regular revolving door of Dockers players and its own very young list of local talent, plenty of stability.

Finding a forward was a problem for the Thunder with ruckman Luke Strnadica and Gerald Ugle sharing the goalkicking honours with 17 goals apiece.

First half of the season: No better way to start a dual premiership defence than with a first-round win the following year.

Unfortunately, the success of defeating East Fremantle in 2018 wasn't the achievement it used to be. Hindsight is always 20/20 but the 15-point win over the Sharks was probably an accurate reflection of what was to come from the Thunder.

There were three consecutive defeats to Swan Districts, Perth and East Perth, by 11 goals. And before anyone could say "three-peat" the Thunder were 1-3 and looking anything but flag potential.

Then came some valuable reinforcements. With Fremantle again having AFL woes, there were some first-picked Fremantle players relegated to the next level and it was significant that Brandon Matera and Michael Johnson were key factors in Peel notching wins over Claremont (11 points) and West Perth (three points) to breathe life into the club's season.

After 10 rounds, the Thunder had played half their matches but remained in sixth spot with a 4-5 record.

Second half of the season: A loss to South Fremantle in Round 11 compounded the Peel misery yet a victory over the Bulldogs in Round 16 re-established hope of another finals campaign.

But it was the AFL influence that was telling on the Thunder. When Brad Hill passed through the club en route to a Fremantle return, Peel defeated Swan Districts.

The losses to Subiaco and Perth – albeit by eight points – brought the Thunder back a peg or two.

Then came the against-all-odds four-goal triumph over South Fremantle that brought the spark back to Bendigo Bank Stadium. Mitch Crowden had 27 possessions in that clash.

West Perth beat Peel in Round 17 before the Thunder rebounded with a win over East Perth the following week.

Yet when Peel couldn't repeat the effort against the Royals at home three rounds later they'd missed their chance to challenge for the silverware.

Young guns: Luke Strnadica (20) was always going to be a work in progress for the Dockers but he indicated he would be worth the wait with a series of strong performances in the WAFL.

Another Fremantle squad member Tom North (19) emerged in the second half of the season as did Mitch Crowden (19) although he got a taste of AFL earlier in the year.

Baldivis product Jordan Boullineau was also praised by the Peel match committee for his contribution to the campaign.

Last year: 12 wins, 8 losses – Finished 3rd (H&A)

This year: 7 wins, 11 losses – Finished 7th (H&A)

The coach: A much tougher season for dual premiership coach Cam Shepherd, although he has been in this position before during his tenure with Peel. What was often overlooked with the Thunder was the limited experience. A rebuilding Fremantle had plenty of youth and that tested the level of resources available to Shepherd.

Swans slip away in second half of season

By Ross Lewis

Men of influence: When Swan Districts was at its best this year the team's Triple Tall Threat was instrumental in the performances.

Ruckman Nathan Blakely made a triumphant return to the WAFL after a knee injury and work up north, Tony Notte added another chapter to his outstanding League story and Corey Gault was strong enough to earn State selection.

Jesse Turner took the biggest step in his football career when he emerged as the club's best onballer, averaging a team-high 23 possessions per match. He also didn't miss a game in 2018.

Former Fremantle, GWS and Carlton squad member Rhys Palmer returned to WA to add some much-needed experience in the middle while Matt Riggio remained the most reliable spark in congestion.

East Perth fairest-and-best winner Steven Payne gave the WAFL another crack after playing last year in the country and was a reliable contributor to the black-and-whites' cause.

First half of the season: Swan Districts jumped from the blocks to set up victories over Perth and dual defending premier Peel in the opening rounds.

It was a strong vote of confidence in new coach Adam Pickering.

But then there was a loss to Subiaco in Round 3. In the end, no great harm there as no-one was going to overcome the Lions this campaign.

However, slipping to West Perth a week later left a few questions.

Some were answered when Swans pummelled East Fremantle by 90 points in Round 5. Then a few more concerns were raised by the following loss to South Fremantle.

Wins over East Perth and Perth in rounds 8 and 9 steadied the ship and showed that Brayden Noble, David Ellard, Matt Rogers and Todd Banfield were incredibly important to Swan Districts playing at peak form.

The black and whites rounded out the first nine encounters with defeat at the hands of Claremont but Pickering's band still sat fourth with a 5-4 tally.

» Tony Notte

Second half of the season: And then the pain set in.

It became an agonising period for Swans in the second set of matches with the match committee struggling to find a winning formula.

From Round 10 to Round 16 Swan Districts lost six consecutive contests to tumble all the way out of finals contention.

It took a win over the competition whipping boy, East Fremantle, to snap the club from the doldrums.

But it wasn't enough to kickstart the Swans' finals campaign.

There were three more defeats – to Subiaco, South Fremantle and Claremont – and what seemed like a positive season early ended in considerable disappointment.

Swan Districts finished the regular rounds with a record only better than East Fremantle.

Young guns: Former Aquinas student William Reidy (19) burst on to the WAFL scene with a four-goal haul on debut and he continued to be a livewire further up the field in the remainder of the campaign.

Tobe Watson (20) held down an important defensive role most weeks and continued to be an attractive proposition to AFL talent scouts.

Harvey product, 19-year-old Patrick Italiano, got a League opportunity in the latter stages of the season due to Swan Districts' plight but he showed he would be valuable next winter, particularly in his 25-possession effort against East Fremantle In Round 17.

Last year: 10 wins, 10 losses – Finished 4th (H&A)

This year: 6 wins, 12 losses – Finished 8th (H&A)

The coach: The WAFL caper looked so easy after two rounds for the only new coach in the competition this year. But the coaching game got a lot tougher as the season went on for Adam Pickering. However, Swans were two quality midfielders short in 2018 and after some squad rebuilding over summer expect Pickering to be better for the experience in 2019.

Jayden Schofield
EAST FREMANTLE

Sharks sink in sorrowful season

By Ross Lewis

Men of influence: Jayden Schofield was East Fremantle's most damaging player in a year when the Sharks paid for lacking more of his ilk.

Schofield would have played interstate football against the SANFL had he not been suspended.

George Hampson had a way of bobbing up to electrify the Sharks forward-line and he kicked 18 goals in 2018.

East Fremantle also got solid service from Cam Eardley and Dion Anthony while Jonathon Marsh was ever-reliable in the many Mr Fixit roles he had to play during the season.

Former Gold Coast squad member Cameron Loersch made a belated start to his career with East Fremantle but finished with 27 goals from nine matches.

First half of the season: The difficulties East Fremantle would have during the year weren't that clearly evident.

Sure, there was a loss to Peel in Round 1 but the Thunder were the dual defending premier and the 15-point margin was hardly disparaging of the Sharks' form.

And then there was a seven-point win over Perth a week later followed by a four-point defeat at the hands of Claremont. There was almost a sense of optimism at Moss St.

Then the deluge came. It poured.

South Fremantle had 42 scoring shots as it inflicted a 94-point loss in Round 4. Then, a week later, Swan Districts had 39 in a 90-point humiliation.

By Round 7 the Sharks were enduring a five-game losing streak. The following Saturday there was some joy with a 24-point success against Peel.

But it was the last time East Fremantle sang its song this year. After nine rounds the Sharks were 2-7.

Second half of the season: The run home started with a 103-point loss to Subiaco. Admittedly, a few other teams had copped a whack from the Lions this campaign.

However, the Sharks just never got close to match-winning form again in 2018.

There were 114-point and 113-point losses to East Perth (Round 19) and South Fremantle (Round 21), with the latter proving the season just couldn't end quick enough for the port club.

The closest East Fremantle got to the opposition in the second section of the draw was a 20-point defeat at the hands of Claremont in Geraldton, the Sharks' second home. Jordan Snadden, Dion Anthony and ruckman Jon Griffin were the best on that day.

East Fremantle's average losing margin over its final nine matches was 67 points with the final three coming at 106 points.

Young guns: Considering the Sharks' plight the only option the club had was to try as many kids as possible in the hope they could unearth the talent that could rebuild the League team.

Harry Creasey, 20, settled into the under-pressure East Fremantle defence, playing 14 matches.

At 21, Jesse Wynne has found a senior team opportunity he couldn't in the Claremont system.

Last year: 3 wins, 17 losses – Finished 8th (H&A)

This year: 2 wins, 16 losses – Finished 9th (H&A)

The coach: It is a sad end to Robert Wiley's lengthy contribution to WA football. The former Perth star had five wins in his last 38 matches in the WAFL. He could see after 11 rounds he was unlikely to extract the improvement needed to lift East Fremantle up the ladder and announced he would step down from the role at season's end. The Sharks are on the look-out for a coach who can lift the club from what is arguably the worst period in its long history.

Black Swans break State hoodoo in SA

There was a slow start but the finish was good enough for the KIA WAFL State team to end a drought in Adelaide on May 12.

The Black Swans didn't kick a goal in the opening term of the battle with the SANFL at Adelaide Oval.

However, an 8.2 to 0.4 second stanza set up WA's first interstate football win in the South Australian capital since 1994.

The win was also the sixth straight State game triumph for WA and extended its head-to-head lead against South Australia to 48-46 in 94 interstate meetings.

One of the key factors behind the success was the ability of seasoned players Sharrod Wellingham, Jye Bolton, Shane Nelson and Kyal Horsley to get to the back of the play and keep the Black Swans rebounding from defence.

South Fremantle's Brock Higgins also worked overtime in the ruck to first get WA back in the contest then ensure its lead was never erased.

Bolton received the Simpson Medal as best on ground for WA.

The success over SA was the second big win for WA under coach Michael Broadbridge, who led the State team to victory over the VFL in Melbourne last season.

Broadbridge admitted he and his fellow selectors picked a WA team that had players who could break lines and give the team drive off half-back.

"While we wanted to pick the team around who we thought were the best players we also found that balance to get the run we thought we needed to play on the long (Adelaide Oval) ground," he said.

Simply Energy to power up WA football talent

Western Australia's emerging football talent has received a boost with the announcement of a new partnership with energy retailer Simply Energy.

The Simply Energy partnership includes naming rights to the Simply Energy WAFL Colts competition and the Simply Energy Male State Talent Academy as WA's Official Talent Pathway Partner.

The partnership will see the Simply Energy WAFL Colts Grand Final televised for the first time on the 7 Network as a lead-up to the League Grand Final at Optus Stadium.

S imply Energy Chief Executive Officer Carly Wishart said the partnership was a natural fit for the business as it continues to build its profile in Western Australia having recently entered the residential gas market in Perth.

"Partnering with the WAFL allows us to support community football in WA, while also complementing our national relationship with the AFL," Wishart said.

"Western Australia has a proud football history, having produced some of the most prodigious talent to have played in the AFL. As the Official Talent Pathway Partner, Simply Energy will be the backbone for those young West Australians aspiring to fulfil their AFL dreams."

West Australian Football Commission chief executive Gavin Taylor welcomed Simply Energy to WA Football and said their support would help WA achieve its goal of being Australia's best State for talent development.

"The WAFC launched its new Colts talent development model this year to give our State's most talented players the best possible opportunity to pursue their dreams of playing at the highest level," he said.

"The support from Simply Energy will be critical to ensuring that these players are very well-supported and resourced throughout their journey along our talent pathway.

"We're confident that with the additional investment, the quality and consistency of players developed through the Simply Energy WAFL Colts competition and our State Talent Academies will only continue to improve."

Launched in 2005, Simply Energy is a growing energy retailer with over 670,000 customer accounts in Victoria, South Australia, New South Wales, the Australian Capital Territory, Queensland and Western Australia.

» L-R: Simply Energy Colts players Jarvis Pina, Luke Foley, Graydon Wilson.

Brookes was presented with the award at the West Australian Football League's Sandover Medal Count at Optus Stadium on Monday, September 17 and has received a trip for two to the AFL Grand Final, thanks to the AFL.

The Sunday Times

West Australian Football Commission chief executive Gavin Taylor congratulated Brookes on receiving the honour and said he was a highly deserving winner.

"I'd like to congratulate Mark on his long service and passion for engaging new participants and enhancing their football experience in the South Fremantle District," Taylor said.

"Football in WA just wouldn't happen without the dedication and commitment of more than 40,000 hard-working volunteers across the State like Mark, and it's really important they are recognised.

"Thanks to The Sunday Times, we can honour the contribution and efforts from passionate volunteers who make football such an important part of our community."

Talented umpiring group set for the big match

The 2018 McDonald's WAFL Grand Final at Optus Stadium will feature a mix of experienced and emerging young umpires who will take to the venue's hallowed turf for the first time.

Decorated field umpire duo Matt Adams and Justin Power will guide debutant Ben Laycock on the big stage for the League Grand Final.

All three umpires have had an excellent season, in particular Adams, who was named winner of the Ray Montgomery Medal as field umpire of the year at the Sandover Medal Count on Monday, September 17.

Field umpire coach Cam Douglas said Laycock has had a very consistent season and finals series.

"It is a fantastic reward for Ben for a season of consistently high performances. He's put a lot of hard work into his umpiring and delivers a quality standard each week," Douglas said.

2018 John McKay Life Member Michael Washbourne will lead the Grand Final boundary umpiring group along with Brad Hunt, Ryan Kukura and debutant Jordan Russell.

Boundary umpire coach Tony Raudino said Russell has proved he is worthy of officiating in the big season decider after a stellar season which resulted in him being named the 2018 Greg Smith Medal winner for most improved boundary umpire.

"Jordan debuted in round 3 this season and for an umpire to be running in a WAFL Grand Final in his first season of senior football is truly an exceptional achievement," Raudino said.

Leading goal umpire Sam Hunter and Steve Gaensler will be waving the flags for the big clash.

Goal umpire coach Ryan Harder said Talented umpiring group set for the big match Gaensler was thoroughly deserving of a maiden Grand Final appointment.

"Steve is a highly popular veteran within our umpiring group, having served the competition for 16 years as both a field and goal umpire. He has continued to show exemplary leadership on and off the field this season while umpiring at an extremely high level and is thoroughly deserving of a maiden grand final appointment," Harder said.

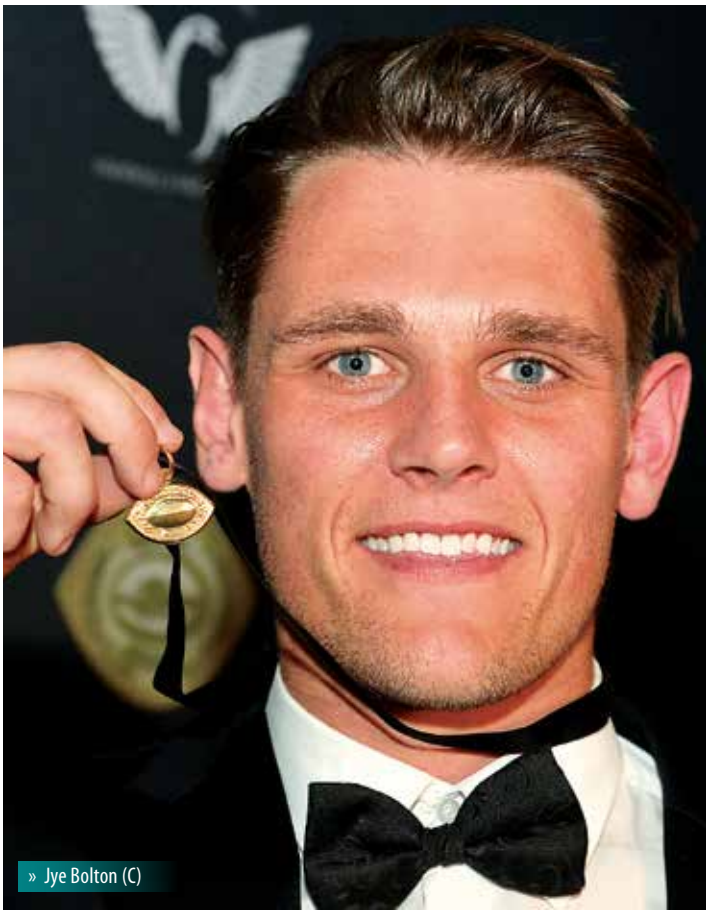
SANDOVER MEDAL

by Ross Lewis



» Jye Bolton (C)

Double honour for Bolton

Claremont midfielder Jye Bolton joined one of WA football's most elite groups by winning a second Sandover Medal in 2018.

Bolton polled 52 votes to claim the WAFL's fairest-and-best player award and it was three more votes than he received to take the medal in 2016.

While the Tigers bowed out of the season in the First Semi-Final, it was an outstanding year for the 26-year-old Victorian, who also won the Simpson Medal in WA's interstate victory over the SANFL in May.

Bolton became the first dual winner of the Sandover Medal since Allistair Pickett claimed his second medal in 2004. Pickett won his first with Peel in 2002.
